

OUR BLIND TIGER SUDDENLY DIES

Earlington's Only Robust Specimen in a Decade—Keeper Fled.

TOO MUCH BEER ASSIGNED AS IMMEDIATE CAUSE OF ITS DEMISE

County Attorney Syper, Magistrate Priest and Earlington Police and Secret Service Take Hand.

The Earlington "blind tiger," operated by Jack Favers, met sudden death this week as a result of combined action on the part of County Attorney Syper, Magistrate Priest and the Police department of Earlington, assisted by a little detective work on the side, with no names mentioned. The dragnet of the drastic prohibition law got busy in a jiffy last Friday, when it was discovered that thirty two cases of beer had been shipped from Evansville to Madisonville, consigned to Jack Favers, and that Favers was hauling the stuff to the northern outskirts of Earlington, where he had been operating a drink joint. Upon advice of the county attorney, Esq. Priest issued a warrant for the arrest of Favers and he was caught by Deputy Hamby, with a wagonload of twelve cases of beer. Henry Holland, a brother-in-law of Favers, was driving the wagon and he was also arrested, the law making him guilty also for transporting the stuff. Both men were released on bond, that of Favers being fixed at $50, and the trial set for Tuesday at 2 o'clock. The beer was locked up in the Earlington jail and held as evidence. It is there yet, but cannot be gotten at without a set of jail-breaking tools. When the time came for trial there was no Favers and his bond was declared forfeited. Holland appeared for trial and was fined minimum, $50. He had clearly been ignorant that he was violating law by hauling the amber fluid and both the county attorney and the magistrate thought leniently of his offence. Favers skipped after having in some manner disposed of thirteen out of the total thirty-two cases in the shipment. Tuesday afternoon there were seven cases still in the house where he had hitched his tiger. There was other evidence in hands of local people who had been at work on the case before the big shipment showed up and made conviction sure and easy. It is practically certain that Favers talked with lawyers that advised him that there was no way for him to escape both fine and jail sentence. And he thought he wouldn't stay to see. The law is clear and drastic and each package of liquor constitutes a separate offense. In this case, counting only the twelve cases of beer in possession of the court, Favers could have been fined twelve hundred dollars and given a stiff jail sentence. The jail sentence is compulsory under the law. From some pretty hefty straws in the wind it looks very like the county attorney and the temperance force in the county will be warming up the illicit liquor dealers in several other directions presently.

RAILROAD WRECK

Near Falmouth, Injures Three Persons—Traffic Delayed Ten Hours.

Falmouth, Ky., June 20.—Train No. 84, northbound for Cincinnati, was wrecked this morning at Catawba, about three miles north of here. The engine in passing over, it is thought, spread the rail, as the engine did not leave the track, but every car except the last car was derailed.

The baggage car and mail car were turned completely over and the end of the smoking car was smashed in and the tracks torn from all three. The track was torn up for a distance of about 150 yards and not a rail or tie was left on the road.

Three were injured, Chas. Perry, mail clerk, of Butler, was hurt badly. Although his car turned completely over the door happened to be over a ditch and he escaped and will live.

All the injured were members of the train crew. Several persons were on the train from here and were brought back. Trains are now running over the track, but traffic was delayed about ten hours and it will be several days before the wreck is cleared completely.

Twenty-five yards in front of the wreck is an embankment fifty or sixty feet into the river. The wreck is the worst on this road for 25 years and it took ten hours of hard work by over 100 section hands from both ends of the line and two wrecking trains to move the debris and place the track back in shape.

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT BOTH WILL ATTEND

Conference of Governors in Kentucky Next November.

Frankfort, Ky., June 27.—Gov. Willson is highly elated over receiving assurances from President Taft and former President Roosevelt that both expect to be in Frankfort and Louisville this fall to attend the Conference of Governors, which begins November 29.

While President Taft said he would make every effort to be present, Col. Roosevelt accepted without qualification, and will be one of the striking figures at the session of the "House of Governors," which was conceived by him and brought about during his administration.

Crushed to Death Under Train Wheels.

Central City, Ky., June 16.—J. O. Kimbley was killed on the L. & N. railroad last night in some manner at this time unknown. He had been on a business trip to Ceralvo in Ohio county, and returned to Central City on the accommodation that reaches there at 9:30 p. m. and there being no train to his home until morning, it is supposed that he started to walk to his home in Bevier. His body was found on the railroad track, just in sight of his home, with a large wound in the back of his head, and the left foot and right hand cut off. Just how death occurred will probably never be known.

As a lock of his hair was found on the axle of the wheel on the return trip of the engine from Russellville, and as the hair was the color of Mr. Kimbley's and the train had passed through Bevier during the night, it is believed that the engine struck him in the rear and the train crew knew nothing of the accident, as the freight stopped in Bevier only long enough to coal. He was fifty-seven years old, and leaves a wife and four sons.

VISITOR TO CITY DIES AT HOSPITAL

Princeton Tobacco Man Was Found Dying After a Carouse with Chance Companions.

The body of J. W. Dallar, a tobacco man of Princeton, Ky., who came to Louisville last week to attend to business, was taken back to his home Sunday afternoon.

A carouse of a few days with companions whom he picked up in saloons near the tobacco breaks, and an ignominious death at the City Hospital, where he was taken Saturday evening, were the result of Dallar's brief stay in the city. Now the police and the Coroner are trying to determine whether his death was due to natural causes or whether it was hastened by rough treatment and assault.

Dallar was found unconscious in the room of Dora Hicks, at 1010 West Jefferson Street, after a telephone message had been sent the police to the effect that a man was dying there. Dallar was found in the room of the Hicks woman almost unconscious. He was removed to the hospital in the patrol wagon. On the way he said that he had been assaulted and robbed of $75. He died soon after reaching the institution.—Louisville Post.

IS KILLED ON WAY HOME FROM FUNERAL WAKE

Man Had Been Sitting Up With Corpse at Spottsville.

Henderson, Ky., June 27.—Louis Beach, aged 20, was found dead beside the "Texas" railroad track at Beal's switch near Spottsville this morning. His body was fearfully mangled and the top of his head cut off.

Young Beach was probably killed by the eastbound 8:10 o'clock train, as he had just left the house of a dead friend a few minutes before 3 o'clock, where he spent the night sitting up with the corpse. He resided at Reeds and was en route home when killed.

His remains were found by the section crew early this morning and were lying close to the track. Beach was evidently walking in the middle of the track when struck.

The dead man was a farmer and is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters.

Coroner Briggs held an inquest over the remains this morning and the jury's verdict was that he came to his death by being struck by a Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis train, in manner unknown to the jury. The funeral will be conducted Tuesday morning from his late home at Reeds.

Wagon Works in Henderson on Boom.

The Conquillard Waggon works is in full operation again after a suspension of several months. The plant made an assignment to the Ohio Valley bank in November. Last week the firm received an order for 1,500 farm wagons to be manufactured for Sears and Roebuck, of Chicago. Seventy-five old employees were given employment. It will require probably a year to complete the contract.

Jury of Women Serves in Colorado.

Hahn's Peak, Col., June 24.—One of the first women juries in a court of record in the United States was assembled in the County Court yesterday by Judge Morning to judge the sanity of Elizabeth Hutchinson. Hahn's Peak was almost wiped out by a recent fire and could not locate enough eligible men in the town to make up the necessary jury of six.

The women were duly sworn, heard the evidence and adjudged Miss Hutchinson insane.

Labor Unions Are Not Privileged Class.

Washington, June 24.—After an all day fight President Taft won another victory in Congress yesterday when the House agreed to reelect from the Hughes amendment to the sundry civil bill exempting labor organizations from investigation for violation of the anti-trust law. This action apparently removed the last real obstacle in the way of an adjournment of Congress within the next few days.

Montfort had been drinking Saturday night and assaulted his wife, when he could not find a bottle of whisky which he believed she had hidden.

TO HOLD EXAMINATION FOR HEALING ARTS

Every Practitioner in Kentucky Must be Holder of a Certificate.

The following letter is received from Dr. J. N. McCormack, secretary of the State Board of Health, announcing the coming examination for certificates to practice the healing arts in Kentucky. The law is now broad and no competent practitioner who proves his proficiency is excluded, but it is required that each shall hold a state certificate.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 27, 1910.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

The next examination for a certificate to practice medicine in this State will be held at the Armory, in Louisville, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 5, 6 and 7 next. This examination will include every sect who desire to practice the healing art in any of its branches, and is designed to protect the people from ignorance and incompetency in the treatment of disease.

The Board will appreciate your calling attention to it, as no one can be a legal practitioner without this certificate, and no unregistered practitioner can legally collect any fees.

Thanking you for your co-operation in our work, I am, Very truly yours, J. N. McCORMACK, Sec'y.

The Sobriety of the Editor.

It used to be said, with some truth, years ago, that the meetings of the Kentucky Press Association were one big howling drunk. It can no longer be said. The meeting last week of the Press Association at Middleboro was a superb test of the sobriety and temperance of the Kentucky editors. It was the "wettest" towns they ever struck and red liquor of all kinds was as free as water and seemed to be more abundant. This fact, coupled with the insistence of the hospitable citizens of the mountain city, that we should eat, drink and be merry, made the temptation about as great as possible; yet there was not a single newspaper man in all the four days under the influence of liquor and nearly half of them did not touch a drop. This is to the credit of the Kentucky Press Association and for real temperance we put them against any other organization in the State.—E'town News.

The Jew a Good Citizen.

The oppression of the Jew in the Christian countries of Europe is an old story; but it is happily dying out by slow degrees. It has existed in them all, without exception. It is a woeful blot on Christian charity. No other ages of the world present anything so dreadful. It was caused by a religious and race hate without precedent and without cause. In Asia the Jew was never treated in this barbarous way; only in the Christian countries of Europe. We all now deplore it deeply, and want to confess it and make amends for it. We have here more Jews than there are in Jerusalem. And, on the whole, they vote for good government and not merely for party.—Leslie's Weekly.

TWO SCHOOL- HOUSES CONTRACTED

White Plains Now Expects to Make Up Local Subscription for Building.

Contracts were let by the building committee of the County Board of Education last Saturday for the erection of two new schoolhouses, one at Silent Run and the other at Ferguson sub-district. J. G. Foley was the successful bidder and will build both houses. Contract to paint Concord schoolhouse was let to Joe Clark of White Plains. Frank Wilkie was best bidder for Goodacre, Leech and Bona Fide schoolhouses, to be painted.

No bids were considered for the new White Plains school building. The committee was advised that the White Plains people were becoming interested and a movement was on foot to make up a local subscription to supplement the money appropriated by the County Board, and that they would build a larger house than the specifications advertised had called for.

Earlington Wins.

Once again Earlington's strong aggregation of ballplayers defeat the Dawson Tigers' with a score nine to two by bunching their bingles in the eight inning.

The game was very close until the eighth inning, the scores being tied, but first two men up reached the corners safe and manager Wilson punched the sphere for three sacks and two men scored, then the batting rally began which meant nine scores for Earlington and the tigers failed to score.

Long, the slab artist for Dawson was relieved and Price who filled his place fared but little better. Dawson had several St. Charles boys in their line-up and played a fairly good game until their flight in the eighth. The features of the game were, the pitching of Foley and the batting of Wilson, Curtis, Peyton, and Goodloe. Earlington had their reliable umpire Mr. Cow and again with them. Battery for Dawson, Woodruff, Long and Price; Battery for Earlington, Foley and Graham.

Her husband found her dead body locked in her room. She is survived by several children.

The Belled Buzzard Again.

Henderson, Ky., June 27.—The famous "belled buzzard," which has for many years inspired awe in the Southern and Western States, has just been seen in the Anthoston neighborhood, in this county, by reliable persons. This buzzard was belled in Tennessee by a farmer.
